

Mr. Wickersham had no knowledge of this agreement between him and the rest of the world, except the United States," interrupted Representative Palmer.

Davis was asked if he had a copy of the agreement. He said he did not, but he personally had a copy of it.

Mr. Wickersham admitted he represented the so-called "pump trusts," testified at the night session committee that the International Pumping company owned all the manufacturing he mentioned. He said the International Pumping company had net earnings of $1,250,000 on its aggregate investment of $25,000,000, or a 5 per cent return on its capital invested.

EUGENE BENOIST BADLY FROZEN IN MOUNTAINS

Eugene Benoist, whose feet and legs were frozen nearly to the knees a week ago when he attempted, with the thermometer at 20 degrees below zero, to get a pack horse up the icy, snow-covered slopes of Pikes Peak to his cabin at the Hydro-Electric intake just above the Halfway house, was brought down the path yesterday on a sled and was taken to the Glickner sanatorium, where it may yet be found necessary to amputate parts of each foot. He was reported as resting easy at the hospital last night.

Benoist, who is a member of one of the oldest and most aristocratic French families in St. Louis, has been working for the electric company in various capacities for a year and a half. For months he and his young wife of a year, who was formerly Mrs. Evelyn Blood Johnson of St. Louis, have been living in the mountain cabin, where Benoist is stationed because of his duties as caretaker at the intake.

Two weeks ago several men were sent up the mountain to repair damage done to frozen pipes. Food ran short and the chances of getting more up to the cabin seemed slim because of the great quantities of snow along the trail. Benoist volunteered to make the trip with a pack horse, and left this city early in the evening on his return. He was almost overcome by the time he reached Manitou, but his friends could not persuade him to give up the trip up the trail in the increasing cold and darkness. He set out to lead the horse up the trail, but the pathway was covered with ice and the animal fell every few yards.

Late that night, Mrs. Benoist, becoming alarmed, one of the men at the camp started down the trail to look for her husband. When he had been away so long as to arouse alarm at the camp, another man was sent after him. About midnight the man reappeared at the cabin, bringing Benoist and the horse with him. Both of his feet were badly frozen. They had found him alone the trail, completely exhausted and unable to walk.

"LOUISIANA LOU" IS A LU LU, SAYS CRITIC

By S. F. N.

Playing to an exceptionally good sized audience, Harry Askin presented "Louisiana Lou" at the Grand opera house last night, being its first presentation in Colorado Springs. This piece ran for one year in Chicago before going on tour, where the press and public were unanimous in their praise.

From the principal characters down to the subdivision of the chorus, there is a good humored, rollicking breeziness that never allows interest to lag. All through the good things of the play there is a vim that is unusual. One observer of this musical comedy leaves a deep-cut impression of Lidofofski. The character is unique in musical comedy. Sam Liebert makes Lidofofski a very appealing characterization.

Another surprising original piece of work is that of Anna Boyd in the part of Jennie Wimp of large proportion physically, vocally and humorously. Miss Boyd has been here two seasons ago in "Madame Sherwin Zelle" and in the role of Della looks the part, and sings in good voice. Freddie Nice is a nimble and original dancer and his work in the second act is strikingly good. Nice was seen here in "Bright Eyes" last year.

Other principals whose work is of high quality, are Cecilia Novato as Louisiana Lou and James McElhern as Konkarny, the political boss of New Orleans. Louisiana Lou abounds in more genuine wit and individual efforts, songs than almost any other musical comedy made in Chicago. From the haunting waltz tune, "If Love Be Mad," on through "Now Am De Time," "I Think You Think Too Much About Too Many," "That's Not for Me" and "Louisiana Lou," to "My Rose of the Ghetto," touched with sentiment and a tear or two, the score has a character all its own. The costumes and mounting are new and fresh and the color scheme well worked out. "Rolled down" the performance last evening was not the best $2.00 attraction this season, but it seemed that every one enjoyed the play.

WAR WILL BE RESUMED IN WEEK, LATEST PREDICTION

Allies Disgusted With Dilatory Tactics on Part of Turkey; Powers Prepare Note to the Ottoman Government

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Unless unforeseen events should change the current of affairs, war in the near east will be resumed within a week. The allies, convinced that the Turks are merely drifting without a fixed policy, have determined to end the seemingly fruitless debates and wire pulling by resuming military operations where they were left off more than a month ago.

The Balkan kingdoms, moreover, are anxious to obtain relief from the burden of maintaining armies in the east. The allies, however, have given the powers no definite time to agree on the resumption of operations. It is probable that the allies will present a note to the Ottoman government in the near future, asking for a definite answer to the ultimatum presented to them in the autumn of 1912.

Have No Faith in Note
Immediately afterwards the British government will notify Turkey that it has no faith in the note and that it will not be bound by it. The allies have no faith in the note and they will not be bound by it. The allies have no faith in the note and they will not be bound by it.

G. O. P.—Democratic Alignment.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 14.—The designation of the next United States senator from Wyoming tonight appears dependent upon the settlement of three contests in the house of representatives and two contests in the senate. miners, farmers and the laboring classes generally would remain an imperishable home in the third republic. M. Deschamps dwelt upon the external political situation, and expressed the belief that the world could reasonably hope that the Balkan crisis would not drag the country into a conflict which none desired.

Another feature of the day was the animated conversation in the lobby of the senate between Premier Poincaré, M. Briand, the minister of justice, and ex-Premier Clemenceau. It is understood that M. Clemenceau reproached the ministers for the recent attitude of the cabinet with respect to the reinstatement of Du Puy de Lôme and declared openly that he intended to vote for M. Poincaré.

RAILROADS WIN BATTLE AGAINST NORTHWEST SNOW

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 12.—The Milwaukee railroad, after struggling with the snow since last Saturday, cleared its tracks across the Cascade mountains late today and is again moving trains. The Great Northern promises to resume the operations of its mountain division tomorrow. The Northern Pacific has gained a complete victory over the drifts and slides and trains are now moving regularly. Today was the kindest that the railroad men have experienced in several weeks. No snow fell and the temperature was in the thirties. The forecast is for rain tonight, extending perhaps into the morning. There is more snow on the ground in western Washington now than at any time in the past 15 years.

Colorado City DEPARTMENT

TWO WOMEN MEMBERS CHARTER CONVENTION TAKE GREAT INTEREST IN WORK

The distinctive feature of the convention which is drawing up a charter for Colorado City is the presence of two women on that body. In this the local law makers put the same prohibition on woman suffrage as does the state legislature, with its woman suffrage and woman representative.

The two women did not attend the first two meetings of the convention, being kept away by the presence of other matters, but both came to the session Monday night. There was no fuss or argument about their meeting, as in the case of the women at Denver. Instead, each took her appointed place quietly and throughout the evening, by a series of questions, showed a lively interest in the work at hand.

As a strange coincidence for a city of this size, they live on opposite sides of the same street, within a few doors of each other. Mrs. Burwell's house number is 124 Lincoln avenue, and that of Mrs. Mylon, 131 Lincoln avenue. The first name of each is Emma. Each is tall.

The second meeting which the two women are to attend, the fourth of the convention, comes at 7:30 o'clock this evening. At that time a definite decision as to the plan which the convention will follow in its work will probably be made, as the recommendations of the committee on division of the work, which reported at the last meeting have not been acted upon.

This report was to the effect that the charter should not be drawn up in the usual way, by consideration in parts by committees, but that the Durango charter should be taken as a guide and read by sections and considered by the convention as a whole.

Rules governing the deliberations of the convention have been adopted, a committee to audit expenses has been appointed, consisting of L. A. Doran and George W. Morris, and a committee on revision has been chosen. This last committee is composed of Dr. G. H. Gilmore, J. R. C. Statler, Martin Drake, Frank Pries and J. P. Jackson.

C. L. McKesson, city attorney of Colorado Springs, spoke before the session of the convention Monday night, discussing the various forms of charter government and their origin. He also made several recommendations.

JUDGE ARCHBALD GOES

BACK TO SCRANTON, PA., TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Former Judge Robert W. Archbald, who was stripped yesterday of his office as a judge of the commerce court by the United States senate, spent last night at the residence of one of his sons in this city, and left today for his home in Scranton, Pa.

The former judge declined to be interviewed, but his son, who spoke for him, said: "My father's conscience is clear. He is going home to practice law. He will start all over again. My father has been a courteous, efficient and good judge. Perhaps his kindness of heart accounts for many of his difficulties."

Panama a City of Madmen

The Great Canal Is Being Built at the Expense of the Mental Balance of a Hundred Thousand Americans

John Fleming Wilson in Lippincott's Magazine.

Panama is a city of madmen, a playground for the insane. The streets and cafes are thronged with men intoxicated not with liquor but with the deadly poison which our American strenuous distill when transplanted under the tropic.

We are doing, we say, the greatest piece of engineering work ever done in the world. We boast of it across the world. The Panama canal is the most prodigious achievement of mortal man. They tell me here in hard eastern tones that it is the monument of American genius.

That monument stands over the grave of American sanity. I landed at Balboa, on the Pacific entrance to the canal, and realized within 10 minutes that I was in the oddest of odd lands. The eyes of the men on the great government pier were the eyes of slaves, the set eyes of men obsessed by a single and enormous idea. They moved quickly, without wasting muscular energy. They halted precisely on the spot they wished. They heard nothing but the gist of what was said. They responded to questions with a clipped "yes" or a brusque "no."

Merely Human Machines. They were machines, moving more freight across the isthmus than had ever been moved with such facilities in the history of the world. They were helping to dig the biggest canal in this earth. The first ship was going through in 1913. They cared about nothing else.

Later, at the old hotel, I found a former acquaintance, with whom I had often whiled away an afternoon in the Parque de la Central. He looked me over critically and then smiled. "It is good to see a sane man," he remarked.

"You mean—?"

"All other Americans are mad," he answered gently.

We sat and smoked quietly. The dim stars shone upon us through the high mist that was soon to thicken into the clouds of the rainy season, and a huge night-moth slowly swung round the staff of a palm in his nocturnal, dreamy maze. I was content and at peace. After all, the old city of Darien still held its humanity and peace.

But there was a brisk clatter of hoofs, the rumble of wheels, and a coach swung up before the hotel and two men leaped out. They were talking in rapid, high-tension voices. They rushed into the cafe, and we heard their impatient order for beer. Three minutes later they were again in their rig, rolling away down the street.

"Drinking on a wager," I suggested. "Sober men," my friend answered, "but Americans, canal-diggers. They could spare only three minutes. Your canal must be done next year." He sighed.

For two days I wandered about the one idle American in Panama. Then the police became suspicious of me, and I sought my friend, El Teniente Cecilio Sinisterra of the "Vigilantes." To him I explained my peaceful mission. "Now, who do your confounded police bother me?" I demanded.

Sinisterra passed the compliments of the day and apologized. "It is because you are not mad about the canal," he said.

"You sit down and keep quiet. You talk of other things. You do not address strangers on the subject of cubic yards and shovels and the I. C. C., my friend. I will tell my men that you are an Englishman."

"But I'm an American, as you well know," I protested.

Sinisterra shook his handsome head. "No one would believe it. All Americans know nothing but the digging of the canal. No American would come here except to work or to criticize the work of others, and hasten the completion of it."

Later I received due apologies from the police officer, who smoked a friendly cigarette with me and intimated that I should not have written down on the hotel register my nationality as "American."

Serious at Their Play. At 10 o'clock I went into the big cafe of the Panazone. Every table was crowded, so I made my way to the little platform where Charlie Ward was playing the piano. He nodded over his shoulder at me, and I seated myself in a chair behind the screen.

By the brilliant lights, I could see that the throng was almost entirely made up of solemn-faced engineers and clerks. They sat, each stiffly in his chair, shoulders tense, eyes steady, brown hands before them on the table. They were drinking beer or coca-cola exclusively. I perceived but one man drinking liquor, and he was plainly a superior executive of some sort, stimulating exhausted nerves. He seemed to be listening intently to the music which was rolling out from under the pianist's skillful fingers.

Suddenly the music stopped with a crash, and there were words of approval, but no applause. Almost instantly two singers rose and raised a colloquial ditty about Panama and the canal. When it ended Charlie came over to me for his moment's rest.

"Queer crowd for a cafe," I remarked. "Nobody laughs or even smiles."

He looked at the clock and groaned. "I've six more hours of this work." "When did these birds die?" I demanded.

"They're only lame," he answered.

Kansas Woman Helpless

Lawrence, Kas.—Mr. J. F. Stone, of this city, says, "My wife suffered for ten years from womanly troubles, during two years of which she was totally helpless. She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up to die. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health. The tonic, strengthening and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on the woman's constitution, are the most valuable qualities of this popular medicine. Cardui acts specifically on the woman's system, restoring the vitality of the system. Half a century of success proves that Cardui will do all that is claimed for it. Try it for your trouble."

FORMER COLORADO DETECTIVE CAUGHT IN EL PASO RAID

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 14.—L. S. Ross, former secret service operative for the United States government and V. I. Schneider, former secret operative of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad in Colorado, were arrested by the El Paso police this morning shortly after midnight following a holdup of gamblers in Hotel McCoy.

The police received a tip that the holdup would occur and were in waiting in Hotel St. Regis, adjoining. They claim that they could see the holdup through the window and that while it was taking place, they rushed into Hotel McCoy and caught Ross as he was coming down the stairs.

The police took $1,250.80 cash, about $200 worth of diamonds and three revolvers from Ross. The money was robbed, identified the money and diamonds as theirs. The men were locked into their room when the robbers escaped. Schneider was taken into custody in his office in a nearby building, where he and Ross operate the Western Detective Agency.

Ross' connection ended with the United States secret service a few months ago following the discovery that certain arms seized from Mexican rebels by the United States detectives, had been sold to a local arms house.

DETECTIVES CLASH SERVING SUBPOENA

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Detectives from police headquarters fought a pitched battle today with detectives of the district attorney's office, in an effort to serve George A. Sipp with a subpoena issued by Police Commissioner Waldo. Sipp, formerly agent of a disreputable resort who had boasted that his disclosures would insure the dismissal from the police force of an inspector and a captain, finally made his way, under guard from the district attorney's office to the grand jury room to testify in the vice investigation.

Whether the police succeeded in serving the subpoena probably will have to be decided by the courts. It was shoved through the iron cage of an elevator in which Sipp was riding. Five hundred persons witnessed the battle in hand Sipp the subpoena as he was being conducted to the elevator.

After Sipp's testimony before the grand jury, he was whisked away in an automobile, and District Attorney Whitman announced the hotel detailed two men to protect him "night and day."

The subpoena summoned him to appear Friday at the trial of Policeman Eugene Fox, before Commissioner Waldo, on charges arising from the graft investigation. Fox was indicted today by the grand jury which Sipp had such trouble in reaching.

The branch broke with 'em this afternoon when they didn't make last week's record. They're from the Pedro Miguel division. They expect me and this piano to make 'em forget their trouble. Well, I mustn't let 'em think too much. Me back to the keys."

A Little Relaxation. For two hours I listened and watched. Gradually the stern, almost ascetic faces relaxed. The sneaky hands ceased to clench, the keen eyes to stare into the distance. Beer was ordered in increasing quantities. Several groups, drinking "coca-cola," switched for a moment to spirits, and Charlie Ward tuned himself up till the lit and swing and beat of his ragtime seemed to stir the very floor, while the singers seemed possessed of a very devil of speed and patter. They were trying to hypnotize these obsessed, brain-fogged figures from painful and absorbing thought; they were white-faced in their agonized purpose of giving relief to tortured souls.

At midnight Ward sat down beside me for a moment, wiping the perspiration from his forehead.

"We've got 'em going," he said huskily. "I've got to wake 'em up out of their canal nightmare for sure and make 'em forget their troubles. It's up to me." His weary eyes met mine. "Watch 'em."

He went back to the piano and sat there a moment breathing deeply and heavily. Then his hands crashed down on the keys, and I understood what he had been working up to.

After the Canal, What? Some day the visitor to the Panama canal will know that this greatest of engineering feats was accomplished by destroying the mental balance of a hundred thousand Americans, by driving mad the choicest of our race in a contest with inexorable time.

through a miserable existence, mad and in agony, dreaming nights of terrific accomplishments, unable during the day to find peace or contentment in ordinary tasks. And in all the towns of all our states men at evening will feverishly demand the barbaric songs and savage minstrelsy which alone can appease the nerves of the being whose sane soul is buried in the concrete of Miraflores or lies within the smooth depth of La Boca.

Washington, Jan. 14.—J. S. McCabe of Rhode Island won the quadrennial race to Washington with the electoral vote of his state today. At 3 a. m. when the office of the vice president opened, Mr. McCabe was waiting. A short time later H. M. Lodge of Rhode Island appeared with the vote of North Carolina. A late train robbed him of the honor of being the first to arrive.

This gentle, effective fruit laxative thoroughly cleans your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, poisons, gases and clogged-up waste.

A harmless cure for sick headache, indigestion, for a sour, gassy, disordered stomach, for constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness, pimples, take delicious Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all these troubles lies in a torpid liver and sluggish condition of your thirty feet of bowels.

A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs to night means all poisonous waste matter, the undigested, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved on and out of your system in morning, without gripping, nausea or weakness. It means a cheery, day tomorrow—many bright days thereafter.

Please don't think of gentle, effective Syrup of Figs as a physic. Don't think you are dosing yourself for lascivious figs. Senna and astringes can not injure anyone.

The remarkable fruit preparation is a wonderful stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, the safest and most positive ever devised. The day of violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts and castor oil is past. They were all wrong. You got relief, but at what a cost! They acted by flooding the bowels with fluids, but these fluids were digestive juices. Syrup of Figs embodies only harmless laxatives, which act in a natural way. It does what right of food would do—what eating, lots of fruit and what plenty of exercise will do for the liver, stomach and bowels.

Be sure you get the old reliable and genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company, Hand, back with scotch, any Fig Syrup imitation recommended as "just as good."

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

BASKETT AND LUCE OPEN RICH ORE IN EAGLES MINE

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 14.—A strike of great importance has been made in the 1,300-foot level of the Eagles mine by Baskett and Luce, who have found what is said to be one of the richest streaks yet opened. It contains both gold and silver in large quantities. It is a picture ore and assays in any 100 lbs. taken from it, but it takes the very best of concentrates. It is understood that a shipment will be gotten out shortly.

The discovery was made in the country adjacent to the Flaming mine on the east and while little development work has been done, it has been shown to be as rich as anything in the Flaming district.

The find was made in the Flaming mine, which has proved a bonanza on the eleventh level which is the next level above. While little work has been done on the strike it is said by persons who are in a position to know that Baskett and Luce have opened some wonderful ore and indications are that it will hold out.

FOUR CARS A WEEK BEING SHIPPED FROM THE W. P. H.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 14.—Regular shipments are being made by lessors in the W. P. H. mine, under the ownership of the United Gold Mines company. The average output for four cars a week. These sets of lessors are a force of about twelve men and work three machines.

The ore from this property is of a better grade than generally sent out from this camp.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The bear campaign continued today in the stock market which was unsettled by a series of sharp drives. Quotations were lowered in all departments, and the closing of the day was for a downward abrupt, with leveling from time to time. However, the market was not permitted to become demoralized. Foreign exchange rates were more or less a potent influence in the stock market. The influence of the last two speeches of President Wilson and the interpretation placed upon them as indications of the probable character of the incoming administration, have been utilized effectively by traders on the stock exchange.

Weakness of the foreign market and the possibility of resumption of hostilities in the Balkans also tended to depress the home market. Still, the influence of the copper market, which is a potent influence in the stock market, was a factor in the decline. There was a sharper decline in the copper market, which was again active and weak, but losses in this group were no more pronounced than in steel, reading, union Pacific and other heavy shares, among which recessions ran to more than 3 points. Steel receded to 61¢, the lowest since the first part of last year. Among the more prominent shares there were heavier declines. American Tobacco broke 1¢, points, and several others from 4 to 10.

Bonds showed moderate heaviness, especially in convertible issues. Total sales, par value, $2,391,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ARE YOU FIT TO MARRY?

Most People Are Not—So Eminent Scientists Say.

Do not marry if you are nervous and irritable. Do not marry if you are weak and despondent. Do not marry if you suffer from indigestion, constipation, sleeplessness or any liver trouble. Do not marry if the divorce and two-thirds of the failures of marriage can be traced to indigestion and constipation, for they are the parents of nervousness, sleeplessness and general debility. I believe that few people are doing more to prevent domestic trouble and financial failure, as well as bodily suffering, than by taking the medicine they might be called the "Peace-makers."

They are the "Peace-makers" because they quiet the liver into activity and drive off all the refuse matter through the bowels pleasantly and naturally. Buy a bottle of your druggist, with the distinct understanding that if you are not perfectly satisfied with the results I will refund your money.

The couple were married in Tulsa, Okla., May 1, 1910. Both had been married before. WILL INVESTIGATE CROW

INDIAN AFFAIRS IN MONT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—An investigation of the affairs of the Crow Indians of Montana by the department of justice will be recommended to the senate tomorrow by the senate committee on Indian affairs. The committee recommended today the adoption of the Townsend resolution directing the attorney general to call on the secretary of the interior for information necessary to the investigation, but it was decided later to modify the resolution to eliminate reference to the secretary of the interior.

The action of the committee grew out of charges made by Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, who alleged that the Crow records had been concealed or destroyed, and that the property of the Indians wrongfully had been taken from them.

Secretary of the Interior Fisher said today he would furnish any records or assistance necessary to the investigation.

EDITOR CROSSES OCEAN

TO PLEAD FOR MYLIUS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Edward Holton James, editor of the Paris Liberator, and an American citizen, pleaded today before Secretary Nagel the case of Edward F. Mylius, a journalist, who is threatened with deportation from Ellis island, New York, because he was convicted in London of libelling King George V. in defense of a friend, in whose interest he pressed the Atlantic Mr. James told the secretary of commerce and labor that Mylius had been convicted of a political offense and not a crime involving turpitude.

The special immigration board of inquiry at New York held that the criminal libel of a king was a crime involving moral turpitude which, under the immigration laws, bars an alien from entry to America. Mr. Nagel discussed the case with the Paris editor for an hour and a half and promised to give a prompt decision, the nature of which cannot be foretold.

Mr. James freely discussed today the publication in the Liberator of the alleged libelous story that King George had contracted a morganatic marriage with the daughter of Admiral Lord Nelson in Malta. Mr. James wrote the story and Mylius was convicted of criminal libel in connection with his distribution in London. "I wrote it and now I affirm it," said Mr. James tersely. "I have spent months investigating it and I am satisfied of its truth. If I did not believe the marriage took place, I now would publish, unhesitatingly, a retraction and apologize to King George and the then Miss Seymour."

NEW YORK CLERGYMEN ENCOURAGE STRIKERS
